

SAHI

June Newsletter

Save the Date!

SAHI's "Hope for a Home Breakfast"

Oct. 9, 2012

8:00 – 9:00 AM

(Key Note Speaker will be announced soon)

Volunteer Opportunity

Do you like organizing events? Want to learn how to plan an event? Join our Breakfast's Planning Committee.

For a minimal time commitment, you can make a big impact.

Call Joy at 651.269.6429

---

"My children tell me that they feel safe for the first time. What a wonderful feeling."

Mounds View Tenant

SAHI Announces "Hope for a Home" Breakfast

With Dr. Art Rolnick and Ramsey County Attorney John Choi speaking, the importance of stability in ...

Two well known experts will be SAHI's key note speakers at their annual "Hope for a Home" breakfast in October.

Dr. Art Rolnick We will be producing the newsletter bi-monthly. We have purchased our 5th home, a nice home in the southern part of Shoreview that is now home to a family of five.

We have also continued to refine our strategy. In conjunction with a John As Ramsey County Attorney, John Choi is working hard to continue to reform the criminal justice system and keep our community safe. He believes we must do everything we can to prevent crime from happening, effectively intervene in the lives of kids who get into trouble, and find innovative ways to prevent criminals from reoffending - all the while working to do all we can to keep victims safe.

Make sure you and your friends are signed up for future newsletters by emailing SAHIMN@comast.net

Tenants Thriving

White Bear Family Thriving at School, New Brighton Family Finances Turned Around

Our White Bear family continues to make great academic strides. Mom will be graduating from Century College and has already been accepted to the University of Minnesota, where she will study Psychology. Her daughter recently completed her 2nd straight year of being on the "A" honor roll. Her son is also doing well at school and has several neighborhood friends.

Our New Brighton family continues to do great things. Unable to have a home based business in their previous apartment due to public housing rules, "R" started an in home day care and quickly reached maximum capacity.

Business is going so well that "R" is starting the process to buy the home from SAHI.

Art Rolnick serves as a co-director for the Human Capital Research Collaborative at the University of Minnesota. He previously served at the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis as a senior vice president and director of research and as an associate economist with the Federal Open Market Committee—the monetary policymaking body for the Federal Reserve System. He is a board member of several Minneapolis nonprofit firms, including the Minnesota Early Learning Foundation and Ready 4 K, an advocacy organization for early childhood development. A recipient of numerous awards for his work in early childhood development, he was named Minnesotan of the Year by Minnesota Monthly magazine in 2005. Rolnick holds degrees in mathematics and economics from Wayne State University and has a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Minnesota.